I received a free copy of this book from NetGalley in exchange for an honest review.

A cute, fun cozy mystery with recipes for making your own healthy pet treats. I think this will be even better once Kristan finally gets her organic pet treat shop up and running. There were no surprises with the murder aspect but the story is entertaining enough and fans of cozies will want to read this. Enjoyable and I plan on reading the next one.

year old daughter, Eva, and plans on staying awhile since her life's pretty much in chaos. Stan and Caitlyn's mother, Patricia, is engaged to be married yet still trying to control both her daughters lives. More turmoil erupts when Tony Falco, the groom-to-be, is missing at his own extravagant engagement party and his assistant, Eleanor Chang's life is abruptly extinguished in an upstairs bathroom at his rented mansion. Now's the time to roll out the red carpet for a plethora of suspects to line up on. Stan doesn't know her mother's fianc  that well, however, Stan knows her ex, Richard Ruse, is sure not a killer. Matters become very dicey when Stan gets too close to sniffing out the crazed murderer. There is a seriousness to this storyline dealing with the heartbreak of substance and alcohol abuse and addiction. This winning pet cozy mystery series is fast-paced, fun, and satisfying for readers. I love all the darling pets, and there are several!

I voluntarily reviewed an advanced reader copy.

I have always enjoyed my visits with Stan Conner's animal family and friends, this book did not disappoint. The books keep getting better. The engagement party for Patricia and Tony is in full swing when Stan's group arrive. Stan is startled to discover several of her co-workers present along with her x-boyfriend, Richard. Patricia is unhappy as Tony is not around. A murdered body is found in the master bathroom. An immediate clamp is out on the incident. Richard is arrested as the guilty party.

Stan is convinced that Richard is innocent and begins to explore the facts of the case. Of course, all the dogs and cats play an important role. Nutty gets a special part. I highly recommend this book.

Custom Baked Murder is the fifth installment in the A Pawsitively Organic Murder mystery series featuring Kristan "Stan" Connor the organic pet food baker living in Frog Ledge. Stan is happily enjoying living with hunky boyfriend and local bar owner, Jake McGee and getting ready for the grand opening of her Pawsitively Organic Pet Patisserie and Bakery which will coincide with Christmas.

Falco, as she and her mother still don't see eye to eye. Even though Patrice is supposed to be a silent partner along with Jake in Stan's new business, Patrice wants the shop designed her way and that is driving Stan crazy. To further complicate things, Stan's sister Caitlyn appears on her doorstep with her six year old daughter Evangeline "Eva", needing a place to stay until her divorce is settled.

Stan isn't pleased to discover that her ex boyfriend Richard Ruse and several of her former co-workers from Warner Financial including nemesis Eleanor Chang are in attendance. Stan tries to make the connection and soon learns that Mayor Falco has hired Eleanor to be his advisor. With so many people including her own daughter Monica despising her it isn't a surprise that Eleanor is found dead at the party, what is a surprise is that Patrice's engagement ring is shoved in the woman's throat. When Richard is taken into custody for suspicion of murder Stan decides to help clear his name, although he's a cheat she knows he isn't a murderer.

This series continues to get better with each installment. Rescuing dogs and cats is a personal mission for the author and it's nice to see how she weaves her love for animals into each book. The loveable dogs and cats will definitely put a smile on your face and so will the townspeople of Frog Ledge. Looking forward to many more adventures with Stan and her family.

Stan's mother is engaged to Frog Ledge's new mayor, and the pair are throwing a big engagement party. However, the groom to be isn't there. Instead, Stan is running into several people she is less than happy to see again from her days in the corporate world, including her ex-boyfriend. The night gets worse when a body is found upstairs. The police quickly make an arrest, but something seems off. Are they trying to cover something up?

Since the last book took place out of town, it was wonderful to be back in Frog Ledge and spending time with our favorite characters. The author has really built a sense of community, and I love how she is growing Stan, the others characters, and their relationships. The downside of that is the murder moves slowly in the beginning as the sub-plots that help with the community building are front and center. But the mystery takes center stage in the second half, offering us several viable suspects and some great twists and surprises.

NOTE: I received an ARC of this book.
